Dear Parents/Carers

This morning, I woke up and opened the curtains to see snowdrops filling the garden borders ...

I left the house to come to work and the day was already bright, with the sun in the sky and the darkness gone ...

On the drive to work I passed fields of lambs playing and prancing, with the sounds of spring all around ...

I arrived at work and the daffodils were poking through the ground bringing their splash of cheerful colour ...

Spring brings with it newness and re-growth - a sign that after the storm, the rainbows will come and the sun will shine.

Today is a BIG day – we have collectively made it through lockdown#3 😊❤️

The past two months have brought challenges for everyone. We have had to learn new things; experience separation from those we love, perhaps even loss; juggle all our roles within our own four walls; and completely adapt our lives to once again support our journey through this massive piece of our living history.

You will have received the updated parent handbook yesterday and I have collated a list of key points at the end of this newsletter in preparation for our collective return on Monday. These help us to know what to expect in terms of routines and 'rules', but as well as these re-assurances, everyone at Eagle School is reflecting on the bigger picture of the pandemic. We are acutely aware of the skills we will need to welcome, understand and unpick where each and every child is after this experience. I ask that you trust us to navigate your child's academic needs which we can discuss at our newly timetabled Parent Consultation on Monday 29th March (details to follow) and know that we fully recognise the wider important aspects of 'catch-up' (a term will not be using) ...

Yes, children DO need to catch up ... with their grandparents 👴, with their friends 👬, with visits to family 👨👩👧👦, with swimming and sports clubs 🏊 with trips to the park 🚲, with birthday parties 🎉, with visits out and about 🏠, with trips to the beach 🏖️, with a chance for a holiday 🏔️. Everyone's mental health is incredibly important and when we are in a socially and emotionally positive place, we are in the best place to learn and work.

We can't wait to welcome everyone back and get back into the swing of face-to-face teaching again. Please ensure that your child(ren) returns with their 'mute button' in full working order – this is a feature of online learning that we wish to keep and imagine that it would be well-received at home too every now then then 😊 tee he 😊

Kindest regards,
Hayley Adams
