Dear Parents/Carers.

This week we welcomed back our children to school after the half-term break. It has already been a busy week in school. The fine weather was 'ordered' and children have been enjoying learning both outside and in. We are aware that normally at this time of year we are getting very excited about a variety of events across this term. As I'm sure you understand the uncertainty around the situation in the country now means we still can't make any firm commitments with regards to these. However across this term we will endeavour to give the children the very best experiences possible and if government guidance changes we will review this.

Roadmap

As we look forward to a time when the country's roadmap leads us to more freedoms, I want to remind all of our community that the guidance for schools has changed little since schools re-opened in March. We therefore must continue to adhere to maintaining social distancing and looking out for the key symptoms of coronavirus both in our children and ourselves.

Online Safety

It is very difficult to navigate the online world for children. We as adults need to make our best efforts to support our children to engage with online material safely. Thankfully the NSPCC has produced very helpful resources which can support us with this. Please read and explore the following at your convenience. <https://www.nspcc.org.uk/keeping-children-safe/online-safety/talking-child-online-safety/>

Home Learning

This term home learning continues to be set on Teams. Use your log in and password to access this. The home learning is very important as it helps children to consolidate learning or to pick up information for pre learning so that they are better prepared for when they enter the learning environment.

Goodbye and Good Luck!

We have some sad news for you this week. Unfortunately, at the end of next week, Mrs Ridout, who has been part of our school community since 1998, will be leaving us. I want to take this opportunity to thank Mrs Ridout for all her years' service to the children of Eagle Community Primary School and both the staff and children will miss her greatly. However, we wish her all the best health and happiness on her future adventures and she will always be warmly welcomed back to our school.

Kind Regards

Barry Thornton (Interim Headteacher)
