

Little Eagles Newsletter

All warm and fuzzy ...

Last week we mentioned how we would be learning how to keep warm and during my visits to Little Eagles it has been wonderful to see how hard the children are trying and persevering with putting on coats and gloves too.

Well done everyone 😊

But also, you can feel all warm and fuzzy when you feel comfortable, as well as cosy, because your setting is just right. Little Eagles has been filled with lots of praise, success and super relationships as the ladies know everyone so well.

I even get a hug and a hi-five as well when I spend time with our Little Eagles family in the play-room.

Pre-Reception ...

If your little one has pre-reception mornings, don't forget that they have a morning breaktime when we offer milk and fruit – if they would rather an alternative healthy snack, they can bring that in.

and fruit – if they would rather an alternative healthy snack, they can bring that in.

family is much more
than a word—
it's a feeling
of warmth and love
that neither time
nor distance
can change.

Next Week ...

Expect a little change to the playroom next week in keeping with a growing up theme.

A chance to think about what you want to be when you grow up and use lots of imagination in your role play. "I wonder...", "what about ..." and "what if ..." are great ways to encourage talking about ideas.
